From TUESDAY April 9th, to TUESDAY April 16th, 1754.

WILLIAMSBURG, February 16.

To the Honourable ROBERT DINWIDDIE, Esq; His Majesty's Lieutenant-Governor, and Commander in Chief, of the Colony and Dominion of VIRGINIA.

The humble ADDRESS of the Council.

SIR,

WE, his majesty's faithful and loyal subjects, the council of Virginia, now met in general assembly, beg leave to return your honour our hearty thanks, for your kind speech [See our Gazette before the last.] at the opening of this session.

We cannot forbear to express our just indignation at the unwarrantable encroachments, and hostile proceedings of the French; and at the same time to testify our approbation of the prudent steps already taken by your honour, for the defence and security of the colony.

Our ardent zeal for the support of his majesty's crown and dignity, and our tender regard for the welfare and prosperity of our country, will incline us, by a chearful concurrence with the house of burgesses, to exert our most vigorous efforts to support and effectuate your honour's proceedings, in what we agree to be the common cause of all the British colonies upon this continent, and more especially of this dominion; and we assure your honour, that in all our consultations we will proceed with that harmony and dispatch, that the importance of the subject, and advanced season require.

We cannot conclude without our earnest prayers, that your honour's constant labours may be crowned with their deserved success; and our warmest wishes, that our country may long continue to flourish under your honour's administration; from whence we may with reason hope to see her security and prosperity established, on the most solid and permanent foundation.

To which his Honour was pleased to return the following ANSWER.

Gentlemen of the Council,

I Return you my sincere thanks for your kind address, and do assure you, it gives me the greatest pleasure, that the steps I have taken in the present situation of our affairs, meet with your approbation.

Your ardent zeal for his majesty's crown and dignity, and your regard for the prosperity and welfare of our country, with your intentions of concurring with the house of burgesses, to exert the most vigorous efforts for supporting me in my proceedings against the enemy, call for my most unfeigned thanks.

And I have not the least doubt of your proceeding with harmony, dispatch, and resolution, on the present emergency.—I am much obliged for your prayers for success to my endeavours, which I assure you, shall always be with a view for the welfare and prosperity of this dominion; and I hope, by our conduct, that our enemies will see, we are not disunited, but closely connected in defence of our rights and liberties.

February 18, 1754.

To the Honorable ROBERT DINWIDDIE, Esq; His Majesty's Lieutenant-Governor, and Commander in Chief of the Colony and Dominion of VIRGINIA.

The Humble ADDRESS of the House of Burgesses.

SIR,

WE, his majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Burgesses of this his most ancient colony and dominion of Virginia, now met in general assembly, humbly beg leave to return your honour our thanks for your kind speech to the council, and this house.

With hearts full of zeal for his majesty's service, and the interest of this country, and fired with resentment and indignation at the unjustifiable proceedings and encroachments of the French and French Indians; we do in the strongest terms, express our utmost abhorence of their late barbarous cruelties and depredations, committed on the frontiers, and his majesty's subjects inhabiting there.

We are truly sensible of the great importance of the several matters recommended to us by your honour, and we do assure you, that we will take the same into our serious consideration, and act therein agreeable to the duty we owe to our king and country.

To which his Honour was pleased to return the following ANSWER.

Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the House of Burgesses,

I Return you my sincere thanks for your kind address. It gives me singular pleasure to find you so warmly expressing your zeal for his majesty's service, and the interest of our country; from whence I draw an happy presage, that you will take the most vigorous measures to prevent the progress of our enemies in their unjustifiable proceedings and encroachments; and secure his majesty's people, your fellow-subjects, from a repetition of those barbarous cruelties, that so justly fire your indignation and resentment.

At the same time, Gentlemen, that you appear actuated by the highest regard for your duty to your king and country, you will become an animating example to the neighbouring colonies, to exert themselves in the c

The SPEECH of His Excellency HORATIO SHARPE, Esq; Governor, and Commander in Chief, in and over the Province of MARYLAND, to both Houses of Assembly, on the 26th Day of February, 1754.

Gentlemen of the Upper and Lower Houses of Assembly,

THE possibility of your undergoing any inconveniences from being convened at this season, would have determined me against meeting you so soon, had not the receipt of a letter from the governor of Virginia, made me apprehensive, the welfare of this and the neighbouring colonies might suffer from any longer delay.

Alarmed at the prospect of seeing our common enemy masters of all the country adjacent to the inhabited parts of these provinces, his majesty's faithful subjects in Virginia solicited our aid to defeat their ambitious enterprize; in the event of which, I am perswaded, you will think this province too much interested not to exert yourselves on this occasion. Left any engaging on the many obvious motives, which must incite you to answer our neighbours expectations, should be construed to imply a suspicion, for which your late address on the earl of Holderness's letter, leaves not the least room,

I shall only communicate to you the letters which I have received from his majesty's governors on the continent, respecting this affair, and also one from the lords of trade, whereby we, as well as the other colonies, are required to send commissioners to Albany this summer, with a present to the Indians, as a means of securing the affections of those people at this critical juncture, when, their being alienated from the English interest, would threaten us with the most fatal consequences. Your resolves on these several letters, I have the most sanguine hopes, will give the strongest testimony of your zeal for his majesty's service, and demonstrate you to be truly guardians of the interest, safety and honour of your constituents.

To His Excellency HORATIO SHARPE, Esq; Governor and Commander in Chief, in and over the Province of MARYLAND.

The humble ADDRESS of the Upper House of Assembly.

May it please your Excellency,

WE return you our unfeigned thanks for your speech to both houses of assembly, at the opening of this session.

We are convinced nothing would have determined your excellency to have called us together at this early season, but your zeal for his majesty's service, and the real concern your excellency has, for the safety and protection of his subjects: We therefore assure your excellency, that we shall, with the greatest chearfulness, submit in our power to repel the common enemy, and as one step towards it will be to secure the affections of the Indians, at this juncture, we shall readily concur to do what is necessary towards the attaining so desirable an end.

To His Excellency HORATIO SHARPE, Esq; Governor and Commander in Chief, in and over the Province of MARYLAND.

The humble ADDRESS of the House of Delegates.

May it please your Excellency,

WE his majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the delegates of the freemen of the province of Maryland, in assembly convened, return your excellency our thanks for your kind speech, at the opening of this session.

Tho' the time and season of the year be inconvenient to us, yet we shall chearfully attend the service of our constituents.

We will, with a just regard to his majesty's interest, our own safety, and that of our neighbours, consider the several letters laid before us by your excellency, and we hope the result will be such, as will meet your approbation, and answer the expectations of those we represent.

From the LONDON GAZETTE.

Admiralty Office, Jan. 18, 1754.

MR. Joshua Appleby, of Durham, shipwright, having discovered an easy and expeditious method of procuring SEA WATER fresh and wholesome at sea; and the same, on a reference from the admiralty, having been thoroughly examined and approved by the college of physicians, and the commissioners of the victualling.

The lords commissioners for executing the office of of lord high admiral of Great-Britain and Ireland, have ordered the process, used by the said Joshua Appleby, to be published, that so useful a discovery may be universally known.

Put 80 gallons of sea water into a still, together with six ounces of Lapis Infernalis, and six ounces of Bones calcined to whiteness, and finely powdered. From this quantity fifteen gallons of fresh and wholesome water may be extracted, in five hours and a half, at the expence of little more than one peck of coals.

This proportion of ingredients will answer very well in these Northern seas; but in some parts of the Mediterranean, or Indian seas, where the water is more salt and bituminous, the quantity must be increased to nine ounces of each.

The ship's boiler should not be used for this process, what remains being very acrimonious.

J. CLEVELAND.

HANOVER, January 7.

BY the last post from London, the regency has receiv'd orders to complete all the regiments of cavalry and dragoons in this electorate by the beginning of April next.

Paris-a-Main, Jan. 14. The chatelet continue to sit for the trial of causes: And the report of the speedy return of the parliament, still prevails.

London, Jan. 24. In the Amsterdam gazette of last friday we find the following paragraph, dated from London, January 11.

"Within these few days new instructions "have been dispatched to admiral Knowles, "governor of Jamaica, concerning the man"ner in which he is to behave towards the Spa"nish guarda costa's, and the means he is to "make use of, in order to prevent English ships "being continually in danger of being taken "in carrying on a commerce which the court "of Madrid is resolved not to permit nor wink "at. In fact, that court plainly discovers un"favourable dispositions in all her answers to "the representations made to her whenever her "guarda costa's have illegally seized any of our "vessels; for then she does indeed promise to "get them restored; but if one gives her a hint "that it would be proper to make some regula"tion for preventing such illegal captures here"after, she answers, that she reserves to herself "the right of taking care that no illicit trade be "carried on in her dominions."

Paris-a-Main, Jan. 18. When the chatelet met this week, they only debated upon the representations which they intend to make, in which they made several alterations, and appointed the 23th instant to prove their right to make such representations. The substance of their representations is, 1*st*, that the officers of the chatelet always look'd upon it as one of the principal points of their duty, to administer justice to the king's subjects; in which, having been interrupted for near three months, by repeated disgraces, and by that means deprived of freely exercising the duties of their function, were obliged to suspend their business; to which, however, they returned, as soon as they had recovered the right of assembling with freedom, and should be sorry to see themselves exposed to the necessity of resuming the like behaviour. 2*dly*, That the strongest proof of their fidelity to their sovereign, is their inviolable attachment to the execution of those laws which they have sworn to observe, several of which expressly forbidding them to regard any letters patents derogatory to ordinances which have not been abrogated, they could not obey those letters patents without violating their oath. 3*dly*, That those ordinances were their rule when they passed their arret of the 28th of September last, declaring, that they could not, without acting contrary to these ordinances, violating their oath, and derogating from their original institution, register the letters patent in form of a commission for establishing a chamber of vacations; and that the same, together with some more weighty reasons, obliged them to the like conduct with regard to the royal chamber.

KINGSTON in JAMAICA, February 16.

On wednesday last the hon. major-general Charles Price, Esq; speaker of the assembly, the hon. Rose Fuller, Esq; chief justice of this island, the hon. James Fearon, and the hon. William Wynter, Esqrs. two of his majesty's assistant judges of the supreme court of judicature of this island; waited on his excellency the governor in this town, and delivered to him a petition of the inhabitants of the town of St. Jago de la Vega, in the Island of Jamaica; and of the planters and other proprietors and occupiers of lands and settlements in the neighbourhood of the same, to his majesty, in order that his excellency might transmit the same; in which we are informed they pray his majesty, that he would be graciously pleased to suspend giving his judgment upon a petition to him, and a memorial to the board of trade; which had been drawn up and signed by the inhabitants of this town, in relation to removing the seat of government, courts of justice and records, from the town of St. Jago de la Vega to this town, until the inhabitants of St. Jago de la Vega should be able to obtain copies of the Kingston petition and memorial, which they declare they had not seen at the time of signing their petition, altho' they had requested the same in writing, of the custos rotulorum of this town; and until they have time and an opportunity of laying before his majesty their answer thereto: And we hear, that the said gentlemen were received with that warmth they had a right to expect. And that his excellency, after receiving the said Petition, was pleased to deliver to the said gentlemen a copy of the petition of the inhabitants of the town of Kingston to his majesty.

We are assured from one of our correspondents in Spanish-Town, (upon whose veracity we can depend) that on Thursday last, the hon. major general Charles Price, Esq; speaker of the assembly, the hon. Rose Fuller, Esq; chief justice of this island, and Henry Dawkins, Esq; presented a petition to his excellency the governor, signed by themselves and several other gentlemen, in which they prayed his excellency would be pleased to grant to, or obtain for the inhabitants of that town and neighbourhood, copies of a memorial to the lords of trade and plantations, that were lately signed by the inhabitants of the town of Kingston, and of a petition that the said inhabitants had presented to his excellency, and likewise of a petition presented to commodore Coats, all upon the subject matter of the petition of the inhabitants of the said town of Kingston to his majesty, and also that his excellency would from time to time, grant the said gentlemen copies of such papers as should come to his hands, in relation to the said matters, that they might have an opportunity to answer the same, and lay their reasons against the prayer of the said petition, before his majesty, and his excellency; and that his excellency was pleased to give a most favourable answer to the said petition.

CHARLES-TOWN, April 16.

This Day Mr. Tucker met with a Sloop at Anchor off Capers's Island, about 15 Miles N. E. of our Bar, without a living Creature on board; but looking towards the Shore, saw some People on the Beach, to whom he went in his Canow: One of them pretended to be the Master of the Sloop, who said he was the only one there belonging to the Vessel, for that his Mate and People were gone to Charles Town for a Pilot; upon which Mr. Tucker told him, he was a Pilot, and offered (with some of the People out of the Pilot-Boat) to bring the Sloop in here, but the pretended Captain (who also pretends to own the Vessel with the Mate) then would not consent to have her brought away, saying she was bound for Port-Royal; upon which the Pilot came away. He describes the Sloop as North-America built, about 40 Tons Burthen, sheathed, seemingly old, with Part of one of her Sides beat in, and having a Quantity of Staves on board. A Mulatto Fellow and a Negro, brought to the Work-House on the 14th Instant, upon Suspicion of being Run-aways, [See the Work-House Advertisement.] say they are free Men, and belonged to a Sloop from Barbados, one William Wilson Master, cast away upon Capers's Island; which must be the Sloop above-mentioned, but Mr. Tucker says, she is riding at Anchor in smooth Water, whence she may easily be brought away, yet, where the first Easterly Wind may drive her ashore and beat her to Pieces. We are told, she has lain there about 10 Days.

'Tis reported, that an Express is come to our Governor, with an Account, that some French Officers, &c. are arrived in some of our Indian Nations, with Presents and Colours for them; and desiring Leave to erect a few Forts. Extract of a Letter from a Merchant at Kingston in Jamaica, dated Feb. 18, 1754.

"The Governor has ordered all Vessels to enter and clear in this Town, which is a great Advantage to Trade. The Merchants here have raised a voluntary Subscription, o wards of £. 10,000 Sterling, in order to on the Expence they may be at, in prose and prosecuting a late Petition to his Ma praying, that the Courts of Justice and cords, may be remov'd from Spanish-Tow this Place, and that Kingston may be mad Chief Seat of Government. 'Tis impo for me to describe to you, the Animosity has lately arose on this Account, between nish-Town and Kingston: The planting rest about Spanish-Town, are greatly alar and have likewise preferr'd their Petition Remonstrance, in order to shew the Inco niences that will result, from granting Prayer of our Petition. The Oppression w hour under, is so great, that we are oblig cry aloud. His Excellency our Governo lately remov'd here, and the South-Sea hou now fitting for his Reception: He lately c a Council in this Town, and will shortly the Courts of Chancery, and Ordinary, in Town: It is also imagin'd, that the Gen Assembly will likewise be call'd to meet her
